Act for freedom now!

“Arm yourself and be violent, beautifully violent, until everything bursts. Because, remember that any violent action against these promoters of inequality is plainly justified by the centuries of infinite violence they have subjected us to.

...Arm yourself and combat their terrorism, burn, conspire, sabotage, and be violent, beautifully violent, naturally violent, freely violent.”

Mauri

Mauri, you’re present in every attack in the social war, in every attempt to destroy this society and in every beautiful act of prisoner solidarity...

We won’t and don’t want to forget you.

Your memory pertains to incandescent revolt and to us who hold fire in our hearts and hands.
